

CROSSING THE THEORY-PRACTICE CHASM: TRANSLATING RESEARCH RESULTS FOR PRACTITIONERS

ENTREPRENEURSHIP - MANAGEMENT CONSULTING - RESEARCH METHODS - PRACTICE-THEME COMMITTEE

The goal of this professional development workshop is to explore the divide in academia between theory and practice. Practitioner scholars, scholarly practitioners, and pure scholars will convene to surface the relevance of bridging the divide, as well as explore mechanisms to move into a regularly repeated sequence of theory informing practice, and practice informing theory - through research.

The primary discussion will be centered around the following:

PRACTITIONER IN ACADEMIA | ROUTES TO PUBLICATION

Additional topics will be discussed of interest to the attendees. These discussions will take the perspective of practitioner scholars, scholarly practitioners and pure scholars.

This professional development workshop captures an important and growing discussion in the academic community. Your contribution to this discussion could impact the future of meaningful research!

Theory informing practice and practice informing theory.

PLEASE COME JOIN US

August 7, 2015

2:45 – 4:30pm

Room 121

Vancouver Convention Center